There may be some errors in the records as many have been destroyed and the use of many years have defased others but we have been as careful as possible but the accurate records kept by early Friends have made this History possible.

Reynolds History

During the early part of the 17th century, William Reynolds was born some place in England. We have no record of the location or the date of this event. We do have a record that William Reynolds married Margaret Exton and that to them were born three sons, John in 1650, Francis in 1652 and Henry in 1655. There is no further record of John and Francis other than their births but we have a most complete record of the last son, Henry. When he was 21 years old, in 1676, he emigrated to America. He made the voyage in one of the small sail ships of the time and spent 22 weeks making the journey.

He settled at Burlington, New Jersey where he remained two years but in 1678, he married Prudence Clayton, daughter of William and Prudence Clayton of Chichester, Pa. (Chichester was then in Chester County but is now in Delaware, Co.) and is in the southeast part of the state). At the time of his marriage, Henry moved to Chichester and lived there the rest of his life. He died Aug. 7, 1724 at the age of 69 years.

There is a tradition that Henry raised corn on Dock Creek, a section that is now in the city of Philadelphia. He too, up 1000 acres of land in the Nottingham Settlement which was a Quaker Community located in the southwest part of Chester Co., Pa. which he gave to his two sons, Henry and William. He gave to another son, Francis the home farm of 290 acres, and John 210 acres. Thus all the sons were provided for.

To Henry Reynolds and wife Prudence Clayton were born 10 children five boys and five girls. Margaret born 1680, married a man named Moulder. We have no further record. Mary born 1682, married Isaac Sharp, Francis born 1684, Prudence born 1687, Deborah born 1689, William the first born 1691, Henry born 1693, John born 1694, Hannah born 1697, and a second William born 1701. We have no further record of the girls, except Hannah, who married Richard Brown. The first William evidently died as a child for ten years after his birth, they named a second child William. The history of the boys will follow in their turn. We have no further record of John then his inheritance.

Henry, son of Henry and Prudence married Hannah Brown, daughter of William and Catherine Brown of Nottingham by whom he had one son, Jacob born 1728. In 1751, Jacob married Rebecca Day and had one son bearing the same name, born 1755. Hannah died 1731 and Henry married a second wife, Ann, widow of William Howell, 1733. She died and Henry married a third wife in 1743, Mary, widow of Jacob Haynes. Henry died in 1779.

Francis the first son of Henry and Prudence married Elizabeth Acton of Salem, N.J., 1712. He, too, settled and remained until his death in 1760, aged 76, at Chichester, Pa. To them were born 8 children; Prudence 1715, married John Dutton; Lydia 1716, married Joseph Townsend of East Bradford; Christain 1718, married John Hoopes of Goshen; Henry 1720, married Sarah Davis; Benjamin 1722, married Sarah Baker and Phoebe White; John 1725, Samuel and Francis the dates of whose births I do not know. Of the above children we have no further record except John. It is believed that he and his wife Edith had at least one son Francis who emigrated to North Carolina in the Quaker Movement. Francis, son of John and Edith was born 1767. Whether he had brothers and sisters, we do not know as the first record we have of him is from the Cane Creek Church Records of Orange County, N. C. His uncle William of whom we will record later had moved to that section in 1761, and in 1791 Francis came. The Cane Creek records show that on the 3rd day, 12th mo. 1791, Francis Reynolds was received into that church. It records also that on 7th day 7th mo. 1792, he was granted a certificate to Center Church. The records state, "Francis Reynolds, son of John and Edith of Chester Co. Pa. both deceased married Rachel Davis, daughter of James and Patience Davis, Randolph Co. N. C. on the 4th day 4th mo. 1793, at Marlboro Meeting House.

Another record on page 94, of the same records state that "Francis Reynolds, son of John and Edith, Chester Co. Pa. both deceased, married Margaret Chamness, daughter of Joseph and Hannah Chamness, Randolph Co. N. C. 23rd day 9th mo. 1795 at Providence Meeting House".

Recd May 12-1977

During the early part of the 17th century, William Reynolds was born some time in England. He has no record of the location or the date of this event. He has a record that William Reynolds married Margaret Eason and that he then went to New York in 1680. Francis in 1688 and Henry in 1688. There is no further record of John and Francis other than their birth but we have a most complete record of the last son, Henry. When he was 21 years old, in 1698, he sailed for America. He made the voyage in one of the small sailing ships of the time and spent 22 weeks making the journey.

He married at Burlington, New Jersey where he remained two years but in 1698, he married Prudence Clayton, daughter of William and Prudence Clayton of Chester, Pa. (Chester was then in Chester County but is now in Delaware, Co.) and is in the southeast part of the state. At the time of his marriage, Henry moved to Chester and lived there the rest of his life. He died Aug. 7, 1722 at the age of 62 years.

There is a tradition that Henry raised corn on Dock Creek, a section that is now in the city of Philadelphia. He too, by 1680, owned of land in the Nottingham Settlement which was a Quaker Community located in the southwest part of Chester Co., Pa. which he gave to his two sons, Henry and William. Francis, son of John and Mary was born 1787. Whether he had brothers and sisters, we do not know as the first record we have of him is from the Genealogical Records of Orange County, N.C. The records state, "Francis Reynolds, son of John and Elizabeth of Chester Co., Pa. born 1727." married Rachel Davis, daughter of James and Elizabeth Davis, Randolph Co. Rachel died at the birth of her first child, a son Job 14th day 5th mo. 1794, and Francis later married a second wife, Margaret Channess whose children we will trace later but now we will follow Job and his children.

Job married Phoebe Hocket, daughter of Mahlon and Sarah Hocket of Randolph Co. N. C. To them were born 12 children nearly all of whom were born in N. C. About 1830 there was a great migration of Quakers from N. C. to Wayne County, Ind. and Job came with the colony. They settled near New Port which is now Fountain City where there was a large Quaker Colony called New Garden and the church there is still called New Garden. The children scattered from there; one settling near Dalton and several settled near Knightstown where some of the descendants still live and Job and Phoebe are buried. Mrs. Addie White of Knightstown, being and granddaughter and to her I am indebted for this portion of the record. To Job and Phoebe were born 12 children; Sally 1815, Reuben 1817 died the same year, Achsah 1818, Elma 1820, Margaret 1823, Mary Ann 1824, David 1826, Phoebe 1828, Eunice 1830, Martha 1832 died in infancy, Asenath 1834 and Susan 1837. She and one child died in childhood, Bertha Ballard in whose memory the Bertha Ballard Home, Indianapolis, was built by her father.

After the death of Job's mother, Francis married again. This wife was Margaret Chamness. Francis and Margaret came to Indiana with the Quaker influx in 1830 and settled near New Port like his son, Job. He continued to live in Wayne County, Ind. until his death in 1849 aged 82. To them were born nine children; Rachel 1796, Aaron 1778, Edith 1799, Martha 1801, Hannah 1803, Isaac 1805, Jesse 1809, David 1813, and Zeno 1816. Thus all the children of Francis were born in N. C. His first wife was Mary Tiggot. They had three children; Ruth 1820, no other record is available of her; Hannah 1822 has no other record; Melinda 1825, she lived single and declined to move to Indiana with the family, thus making her home with Anthony Chamness in N. About 1846, Isaac moved from Old New Port to Dalton where he engaged in the saw mill business. His sons all became good mill hands and some of them continued in the business all their lives. He married a second time, Phoebe Jane Knight and to them were born one daughter who married Walter Willis and now lives at Phoenix, Arizona. Phoebe died in 1875, and Edwin married a third wife, Elmire Starr. They had one son, Frank. Edwin moved to Straughn, Ind. where he continued in the saw mill business until age caused him to retire. His son Frank continued in the business and has extensive milling interests at Rushville, Ind. and a chair factory at Cambridge City, Ind. where he lives.

Frank has been one of the most successful members of the Reynolds family that we have studied. His first wife was Edith Carr of Rushville, Ind. by whom he had two daughters, both of them died in early childhood. Frank married a second wife in 1929, Grace Urbans, who was at that time Treasurer of Indiana. Her maiden name was Grace Banta. They have no children.

They had two sons, Roy deceased and Albert, who married Hall Monech. They in turn have two children, Elsie and Rose Elizabeth. They live in Houston, Texas.

Harvey, the youngest child of Isaac and Lavina still live at Straughn, Indiana.

This exhausts the line of Francis and his children.

As stated above the sixth and tenth children of Henry and Prudence were both names William. The first was born 1891, and the second 1701. It was the custom of that time, when one child died in infancy to name a later child the same name which was done in this case. The second William grew to manhood in Pa. and as stated above received with his brother Henry, the 1000 acres their father took up in the Nottingham settlement. It is probable that he went there to live when he married because the Cane Creek Records of N. C. state that on the 7th day of 6th mo. 1751, William Reynolds and his wife and children were received on certificate being granted at East Nottingham 1751, 20th day 2nd mo. There is a record in New Garden Church Records of N. C. Guilford Co. dated 26th day 1st mo. 1760, stating that William Reynolds and five youngest children were received on certificate from Cane Creek, 6th day 6th mo. 1751.

William at the age of 22, in the year 1726 married Mary Brown, daughter of William and Catherine Brown of Chichester. She died 1738 and he remarried 19th day 10th mo. 1739, Rachel, daughter of Thomas John of Cecil Co. (Probably Md. because Cecil Co. Md. joins Chester Co. Pa.) To William and Mary were born Jeremiah 23rd day 2nd mo. 1726, and died in 1815, and was buried at Providence burying ground in Randolph Co. N. C. The other children were David 1728, Hannah 1733, Jonathan 1735, and a pair of twins, William and Mary 1737. The children of the second marriage (William and Rachel) were Thomas 1742, Henry 1746, Prudence 1747, Rachel 1750, John 1756, and Solomon 1760.

All the children of both marriages evidently were born in Pa. They settled in Roan County N. C. later, which was then all the territory west of what is now Guilford County. Cane Creek in Orange Co. was the only location of a Friends Church, then, in that immediate territory, so William Reynolds and his family united with that congregation. Later New Garden was established where Guilford was later located and in 1762, William and the five youngest children moved their membership to that place. Whether Rachel was then living we do not know as the church record does not mention her. Nor do we know where she was buried, but William died in 1772 and was buried at what is known as the Kindren Craven Place in Randolph County, N. C. There is a high rock at the head of the grave for a monument.

Jeremiah, oldest child of William and Mary, at the age of 25, migrated to N. C. with the family and settled in Roan County. In visiting the Cane Creek church, he became acquainted with Susanna Chamness, the 18 year old daughter of Anthony and Sarah Chamness to whom he was married in Cane Creek Meeting 1755.

The Chamness family had a strange history. Anthony was born in England and at the age of 13 was lingering along the banks of the Thames River and decoyed in some way on board and was brought to America where he was bound to some one to pay his passage. He fell into the hands of a Quaker who tried to help him locate his people in England but was never able to do so. When he became of age and a free man, he drifted into Baltimore Co, Md. and there met a bond girl named Sarah Cole. He helped her work out her freedom so that in 1736 they were married. Here they lived till 1748, then moved to Fredrick, C. Md. where they lived till 1748 or 49, when they moved to Orange Co. N. C. We know that when Cane Creek Meeting was organized in 1751, Anthony was made Verser, an important office in the church. On moving to N. C. they settled on a 300 acre farm, one mile west of Cane Creek Church and continued to live there until their deaths; Sarah in about 1773 and Anthony 1778. They were both buried at Cane Creek.

Such was the history of the Susanna Chamness that married Jeremiah Reynolds, oldest son of William and Mary. Since he is the direct ancestor of the writer, his descendants will be traced at the last of the line of William's children.

David, second son of William and Mary, born 1728, died 1807, married Mary. The birth and maiden name is unknown but she died 1807. To them were born Elizabeth 1758 who married Jesse Davis 1781; Lydia born 1760 married Benjamin Bonbow in 1781; Jeremiah born in 1765, died 1785 and was interred at Center. No further record of David's family.

Hannah, third child of William and Mary, was born 1735. No further record of her except that on the 6th day 12th mo. 1760, the Cane Creek Church disowned Hannah Reynolds.

Jonathan, fourth child of William and Mary was born 1735. No further record of him exists except that on the 7th day 5th mo. 1757, Cane Creek granted a certificate to him for settlement in Pa. He probably returned to the home of his childhood.

William has a long posterity. He was born 1738 at West Nottingham, Pa. and died in N. C. 1787. He married Elizabeth Parker in Pa. William married a second wife Dinah Jackson and settled in N. C. where they lived the rest of their lives. To them were born three children, Johnson 1766 who died a bachelor in 1840; Mary 1768, died 1850; and Elizabeth 1773, no other record. After the death of Dinah, William married a third time to Ann Hutton. To them were born seven children; Rexin 1774 who died 1844, there is no further record. The second child was Amy, born 1775 no other record. The third child was Eleanor 1777 no other record. William born in 1780 has no other record. The next child of William and Ann was Lewis born 1783 and married Sarah Stanton 1809. The next was Ann 1785 who married David Stanton, a brother to the wife of Lewis. The last child of William and Ann was Jeremiah 1787 and died 1842. He married Susanna Chamness daughter of Joseph Chamness and his second wife, Hannah Season. She was born 1788 and died in Indiana in 1862, and was buried at Sugar Grove Friends burying ground in Hendrix Co. To them were born seven children; Deliah, Joash, Hannah, Lewis, Joshua, Catherine and Jeremiah.

Delilah moved to Indiana with her mother and brother, died near Plainfield. Josiah, next child married a woman whose last name is unknown, the first name being Anna E. They had Adelia, who died in childhood, Cyrus, Lindley H., Cordelia B. 1852, Veturia, Lorena and a pair of twins, Franklin Ellen and Enos Addison. We have no record of any of them. Next child of Jeremiah and Susanna was Hannah, born 1817, and died in 1910. She was a woman of extra ordinary ability. After reaching the age of 22 she went to school, attending the Friends Boarding School at New Garden, now Guilford College and became a teacher. In 1843, she married Joel Watkins, a teacher, but he soon died and again she taught school. In 1849, she married a second time, Obed Osborn and lived her entire married life in Randolph. Co. The writer visited her in 1903, then over 87 years of age and found her alert with a most wonderful memory. She and her last husband have five children; Barsina died single, Elwin who married Mary Spencer and after her death a second wife whose name is not known to the writer. The third child was Marion, fourth Susanna who died single, and the fifth child was Lundy, no other record.

Lewis, the fourth child of Jeremiah and Susanna was born 1819. He lived his life in Randolph Co. He had seven children. His wife's first name was Mary E. but her maiden name was not known to the writer. Their children were Josephine, Almyra, Perrin, Lenora, Lucetta, Jeremiah Mary and Bryon. The writer saw him in 1903.

Joshua, fifth child of Jeremiah and Susanna born 1821, died 1883, married Cynthia E. Smith who was born 1822 and died 1883. To them were born seven children; Velina, Verus A., Smith, Florence N. Elwood, and Herbert. Velina married a man named Millis and has one daughter, Ida E. Millis who is connected with Guilford College, N. C. Verus lives in Whittier, California, also William Herbert.

Abigail, sixth child of Jeremiah and Susanna died at two years.

Jeremiah was the seventh child of Jeremiah and Susanna. He married but we have no record of children. He died in 1862 and was buried at Sugar Grove in Hendricks Co., Indiana.

William and Mary, twins of William and Mary. Mary married Matthew Osborn of Roan Co. at New Garden, 28th day 9th mo. 1755. No other record.

This exhausts the line of William twin to Mary, children of William and Mary.

After the death of Mary Brown Reynolds, first wife of William, he remarried Rachel, daughter of Thomas John, Cecil County, Md., 19th day 10th mo. 1739. She moved with the family to N. C. 1851 and was received into the Cane Creek Friends Church, but we do not have any record of her death which occurred after 1760. Their children were Thomas, Henry, Prudence, Rachel, John and Solomon. We have no record of any of the children except Thomas. On 6th day 6th mo. 1761, he was granted a certificate to New Garden M.M. and 3rd day 8th mo. 1761, was received into fellowship of the New Garden Monthly Meeting. Then on 29th day 6th mo. 1765 he was granted a certificate to Monthly Meeting in Pennsylvania. He probably returned to the place of his childhood.

Jeremiah, first son of William and Mary as referred to above married Susanna Chamness, daughter of Anthony and Sarah Cole Chamness in Cane Creek Meeting 15th day 5th mo. 1755. Jeremiah transferred his church membership to New Garden, 1760. 26th day 1st mo. being received with his family on certificate from Cane Creek dated 1769, 12-1. To them were born the following children;

William 26-5-1756	Elizabeth 15-9-1765	Martha 19-7-1776

Isaac 1795-1860

Rachel 1797-1826

Susanna 1799-1827

Mary 1802-unknown

Levi 1805-1863

Sarah 1807-1829

Ruth 1810-1876

Anthony and Elizabeth were married in North Carolina about 1792 or 1794 and continued to live there until 1823. All their children were born there, but being of decided Quaker opinions and opposed to slavery, they finally decided when well past the meridian of life to migrate to the new state of Indiana, where a large number of North Carolina Quakers had already settled. In the spring of 1823, the father mother and six children began the journey to their newly selected home. The journey was made of course with wagon. The mother and smaller children riding while the father and older children walked beside the wagon. It took them six weeks to make the journey, arriving at the Nettle Creek Settlement on the fifth day of the fifth month in 1823. Anthony bought out a prior claim to 80 acres of land that joins the present site of the Nettle Creek Cemetery on the north west. Not long after coming, here, he erected a frame house that is still standing--one of the first frame houses in the community. He continued to live on this place until his death in 1852, at which time he deeded the farm to his son, Isaac who continued to own it until his death. The farm was not out of the Reynolds' family until 1924. In the year 1823, at the November meeting, they presented certificates from Center Church in North Carolina to the Nettle Creek Meeting. Here they were received and remained devoted members during their lives. In addition to their certificate, Anthony and his two sons, Levi and Isaac, a petition was presented for Chelsea Wilson who was son of Anthony's sister of Christian. Elizabeth died in 1824 and Anthony in 1852, both being interred at Nettle Creek Cemetery.

An interesting story was told me by my father and it was told to him in his early manhood by a man who went through the country selling cook stoves, when they first came into use. He said, "Everybody to whom I try to sell a stove asked me if Anthony Reynolds had bought one". Finally he decided that the only way that he could sell stoves in that community was to induce Father Reynolds to get one, and he did not sell a stove until Father Reynolds bought his.

Isaac, son of Anthony and Elizabeth Reynolds, was born in North Carolina in 1795, migrated with the family to Indiana in 1823. He married Tamer Hawkins and settled on his father's farm with the father, near Nettle Creek Meeting House. and found that the results of the test were not as good as expected.

The first part of the test was to determine the effect of the temperature on the rate of reaction.

The results of the test were as follows:

The rate of reaction was found to be directly proportional to the temperature. This was shown by the fact that the rate of reaction increased as the temperature increased. The results of the test were as follows:

Levi owned 200 acres of this good land and 40 acres where Clear Lake is--that had timber on it. They were devoted friends and opponents of slavery. Their home was an underground station. There are four distinct branches of the Reynolds family in Wayne and Union countys. The one just traced, those around Fountain City and Williamsburg, those around Olive Hill and Jacksonburg and the family of W. H. Reynolds of Liberty, Indiana.

As stated above the family just traced came from Pennsylvania and New Jersey through North Carolina to Indiana. Those from Williamsburg, Olive Hill and Jacksonburg originated in New Jersey while the ancestors of Dr. Reynolds of Liberty came from New York and settled at Maysville, Kentucky moving from there to Cincinnati.

While there is no definite connection between these families the compiler believed from the similarity of names, place of origin and some traits of character that all the families came from the same original stock. Wallie C. Reynolds now deceased of Richmond wrote the compiler a number of years ago that it was his understanding that his grandfather, Thomas Reynolds, was a first cousin to John Reynolds who was the first Reynolds to settle at Williamsburg and recently Millicient Reynolds of Williamsburg told the compiler that her father, Jesse Reynolds, had always said that his father, John, was a cousin to Thomas Reynolds of near Olive Hill.

John Jr. had four children, Brazill, Curtis, Alphas and Alice. Brazill had children and lived in Illinois. Curtis married Lidia White and had five children, Dora, Etta, John, Lizzie and India. Olive Hill and Jacksonburg Branch

The following history is taken from two sources. First, Hugh Fagan of Cambridge City has an old bible handed down from Thomas Reynolds with this information. The compiler also has a letter written by W. C. Reynolds, now deceased, referred to above that gives the names of Thomas Reynolds and his father and Brothers and the brothers and sisters of John, the father of Thomas.

John Reynolds was born in 1738 probably in New Jersey of a family of eight children, the first born in 1729. We have no record of his father or mother and no record of any of the children except John referred to above. John was married twice. His first wife was Joannah by whom he had five children: James, Peter, John, William and Robert. The second wife was Margaret by whom he had seven children: David, Rebecca, Lydia, Joseph, Samuel, Thomas and Elizabeth. Of these children we have record only of Thomas who was born April 23, 1798. He married Dorothea Vanot in 1818 and moved from New Jersey to Wayne County, Indiana in 1837. They came from Monmouth County. To them were born nine children: William-1819, Margaret-1822, Abraham-1824, Matthew-1826, Benjamin-1829, Rebecca-1832, James-1835, Bartine-1837, and Jane-1839.

William died in childhood. Margaret married Calvin Boyd and they had two children. Harry Boyd of Greensfork is one child. Abraham, the third child of Thomas, married Ruth Jones and had two children: Marcus and Wallie. Marcus has been married twice. His first wife was Anne Hormel, by whom he had one son, Ralph. Ralph married Irma Horn. They live in Anderson and have twins, Merle and Carl. The second wife of Marcus was Nina Bean. They live at Olive Hill but have no children. Wallie C., the second son of Abraham, married Rose Townsend. They are both deceased but left two daughters: Cora who married Clifford King and who has one daughter, Dorothea, and lives in Richmond, and Maude who married David Blackburn. She is deceased but left one daughter, Joan, who is with her father in Ohio.

Following Abraham came Matthew who died young, then Benjamin who also died young. Rebecca married Calvin Wiskersham and had three children: Margaret, who married Andrew Simpson and lived her entire married life on Walnut Leavel in Wayne County where her son Walter and her surviving husband still live, Walter who in turn married Grace Abbott of Hagerstown and has four boys: Carl who married a daughter of Wm. Harris, Gene, Paul and Byron, Rebecca, who had two children: Barney and Carrie. If there were other children I have no record of them.

James followed Rebecca but I have no record of him. Then came Bartine whose wife was Lucinda Woods. Their children were Ida, who married John Walters and lives in the old homestead one mile west of Jacksonburg and another daughter, Ona who married Charlie Fagan. She is now deceased but left two children. The older one, Hazel, married Dan Brown and lives at Hagerstown. They have eight children. Ona's younger child was Hugh, who married Eva Roth. They have four children. The youngest child of Thomas was James who married Homer Dunham. They had five children one of whom lives in Richmond and one at Franklin, Indiana.

In Union County is Dr. W. H. Reynolds, a descendant of an orphan boy who came from New York City soon after 1791. The story is that two orphan Reynolds boys from New York City came down the Ohio settling in 1791 at Limestone, Kentucky, now Maysville. While they have no record of any earlier ancestors, it is possible that these two boys were descendants of the early Henry Reynolds as one was named Benjamin, a familiar name among that branch of the Reynolds family.

These two boys were Benjamin, who was born in 1769 and who died in 1831, and Justice. Benjamin was quite a small man, being five feet and five inches tall and weighing around 125 pounds. Justice was a larger man. Dr. Reynolds has no record of any of the descendants of Justice.

Benjamin married Margaret Cannon in 1819 and had four children: Sacket-1794, Isaac-1797, Lavinia-1803, and Benjamin Bothurst-1806.

I have no record of any of these except Sacket who was born in 1794, probably at Maysville, Kentucky. He married Mary Ann Guest in 1819 probably at Maysville but later moved to Cincinnati where he became distinguished as the editor of the Cincinnati Commercial and continued to live in Cincinnati until his death in 1867.

Sacket and Mary Ann Reynolds has six children. The two youngest died in infancy. The others were Mary Bathurst who died in childhood, Julia who never married but lived to be over 80 years old, Caroline, born in 1827 who married Alexander Lemmon and lived to be over eighty years old. She had four children, two of whom Frank Lemmon of St. Joseph, Missouri and Mrs. Carrie Stewart of San Diego, are still living. The fourth child of Sacket and Mary Ann was Amanda who also died in childhood. The fifth child was Andrew Jackson who was born in 1831 and died in 1908. He became a noted Presbyterian Minister and was graduated from Princeton as was his father Sacket. He married Charity Hunter who was born in 1831 and died in 1912. To them were born six children. The two youngest died in infancy. The other four were Clarence Guest Reynolds a Presbyterian minister of Elizabeth, New Jersey. He married Margaret Hill and has three children, Mary who died in young womanhood, single, Ruth who married Charles Van Auken and lives at Horsehead, New York and has three children. The third child of Clarence and Margaret is Dorothea a twin to Ruth. She married Elston Drens and lives at Elizabeth, New Jersey. They have one son.

The second child of Andrew and Charity was Mary Elizabeth who married John Sharp and lives in Blairstown, New Jersey. They have no children.

The third child of Andrew J. and Charity Hunter was Walter Hunter Reynolds who like his father and brother is a Presbyterian Minister. He married Clara Mills of Norwood, Ohio. To them were born two children, Thomas, a banker in Cincinnati who married Ruth Keale and has one son, and Stephen, the second son of Walter H. Reynolds is also a Presbyterian Minister, and like his great grandfather and his grandfather is a graduate of Princeton.

The youngest child of Andrew and Charity Reynolds was Grace who is unmarried and lives at Blairstown, New Jersey.

The End

We have given a very careful examination of the facts as have been stated throughout the history. Some discrepancies have come in because of the method of securing this information. We regret any mistakes that have been made but have done the very best we could to get accurate information.

There are some typographical errors that could not be corrected on the stencil. These stencils were sent away to be cut. After being cut, they were sent to another place to be run so the compiler did not see them until after they were finished. Where the wording does not make connection remember it was a typographical error. Also in a few cases the stenographer failed to get my dictation correctly.
